THE BENEDICTION & DRESDEN AMEN

Jesus approaches us today as he approached the blind man with the question "What can I do for you?" The man's reply was: "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!"

That man though blind, recognised the unique person of Jesus Christ and knowingly spoke of him as the Son of David. The thrust of the story hasn't changed over the years that we need a vital faith in the resurrected and living Christ who is the same yesterday, today, and forever. We must never consider him as merely a historical figure who lived two thousand years ago.

Today, the Saviour comes to each of us with the question "What can I do for you?" Our Saviour wants to help you today as he helped the blind man in the past. As Jesus served and ministered to the needs of people long ago, he will minister to your needs and will use you to minister to the needs of others.

Prayer: Lord, grant us a clearer vision of your direction and our thoughts to your thoughts and our will to your perfect will and purpose.
